ART

MARINE ARTS GALLERY

A focus on artwork inspired by the sea and maritime life is so fitting for this standout gallery in Marblehead. The gallery features works by 19th century and contemporary artists who channel a love of the sea into images of historic schooners, sloops, and clipper ships; elegant yachts; delicate conch shells and sand dollars; and the churning surf. There are also still life and floral pieces. You might find historic works by James Buttersworth and Jack Gray, or newer paintings by contemporary artists like Jack Saylor, Alex Callaway, and Marina Dieul. The gallery frequently brings in new acquisitions, so you'll always find exactly the right piece to complement your home, beach cottage, boat, or other space. 26 Atlantic Ave., Marblehead, 781-631-0100, marineartsgallery.com

FABRICS

ZIMMAN'S

With 50,000 gorgeous fabric options to choose from, Zimman's is the largest in-stock fabric store in the country, making it a favorite of in-the-know homeowners, designers, stylists, and others. But the sheer volume of fabrics on offer is only one of the reasons that Zimman's comes out on top. The store also offers free design services, so shoppers can bring anything from a tile backsplash to a fabric swatch from your couch to a photo of your living room, and get expert guidance for choosing the perfect complementary fabrics at a fraction of competitor prices. Zimman's also stocks fabrics that typically take several weeks or even months to order, like richly hued Turkish fabrics that are especially popular with designers. 80 Market St., Lynn, 781-598-9432, zimmans.com

FRAMES

OLIVER BROTHERS

It's rare to find framers working side by side with art conservators, but that's exactly what you'll get at Oliver Brothers. In business since 1850, Oliver Brothers' fine art expertise extends to its framing, which is critical for the attractive presentation and critical preservation of art. Because of Oliver Brothers' deep awareness of the fragility and delicateness of antiques and fine art, the expert framers not only know how to appropriately handle the artwork that's been entrusted to them, but also how to use the most beautiful and suitable materials and methods for framing. 117 Elliott St. Beverly, 978-338-5670, oliverbrothersonline.com
