

More than 11,000 people attended the third annual BOSTON DESIGN WEEK. With eighty-four events, a number of which were sold out, guests from all over gathered to admire, explore, and discuss the vital role that design can play in our daily lives.

(1-2) "Designing the Modern Green Home," at Circle Furniture (3-4) "Perfect Pairings: Creating the Ultimate Bathroom," presented by Cumar at Designer Bath and Salem Plumbing Supply (5-6) "Living Architecture," a talk with Elodie Nourrigat, at the French Cultural Center (7) Touring the North Bennet Street School (8) Design for the Environment—A Sustainable Fair, at the New England School of Art & Design at Suffolk University (9) Boston's Avenue of the Arts: A Walking Tour of the City's Premier Arts District, with Sasaki Associates (10-11) "An Evening with Elle Decor Editor-in-Chief Michael Boodro," at Room & Board (12) John Meyer, Andra Birkerts, Bob Ernst, and Christina Van Houten, the panel members at Boston Design Week's B/A/D Talk, held at the Sam Adams brewery (13) Chris Magliozzi, New England Home's Kathy Bush-Dutton, Billy Trifone, New England Home's Adam Japko, and David Webster at the AD 20/21: Art & Design of 20th & 21st Centuries Gala Preview

(1-2) CARLOS VAQUERO; (3-4) CULVER LAU; (5-6) CHRISTOPHER HUANG; (7-9) FORREST PERI; (10-11) ILLUSTRATION BY MATT DUNN; (12) TARA FALGOUT